Invitation to lecture by Dr David Paton: 'Reducing teenage pregnancy and sexual activity: What works and what doesn't'

The Law Reform Commission has recently recommended that contraception be made available to minors without the permission of their parents.

The theory is that this will help reduce teenage pregnancy.

But is this true? The British experience would suggest it is not.

The Iona Institute has therefore invited a leading expert on this topic, Professor David Paton of the University of Nottingham, to present what the evidence really has to say in this area.

Catholic Education - A Student's Experience

Friday 12th February 2010

The following is an account from Presentation College Currylea Transition Year student, Ailis Broderick, on her experiences of Catholic Education.

"This week Presentation College Currylea, are celebrating Catholic schools week. It seems ironic that we should focus on the Catholic ethos of our school in a week when sixty percent of the population declared they didn't want the church in control in our schools.

I have given the idea of the Catholic influence in this school much thought in recent days, Catholic education is inspired by Jesus Christ, is person centred and acknowledges the unique giftedness of all its students.

In days when much is lightly made of the awful abuse in Irish schools in the recent past, I feel I should speak of my experience in a modern catholic school. I am part of a community which is happy, open and stimulating. I witness every day in hundreds of ways the Catholic value of "Love thy neighbour" played out in the bits and pieces of everyday life .

This could be something as simple as holding the hand of a first year who is finding the going hard or rejoicing in a friends success, I watch as staff and students imbued with Christian love, try and fail and try again to give without counting the cost and love without waiting for a return.

Each morning at ten o'clock we stop and pray. Students lead us in song and reflection. This is an opportunity to centre our lives for the day.

This is the moment when we pray for members of our school community who are sick and joyfully give thanks to God for our achievements big and small.

The God of our school I believe is a God of love and a God of fun, a God of understanding and a God of Joy. Our school is not a restrictive place, but a place of happiness and laughter, a place of very hard work and great achievements. It is a place where each is challenged to use her talents to the limit of her ability.

We frequently share our talents with our local and global community. Every student and teacher contributed to the relief effort in Haiti. We raise money continuously for the Presentation Zambia mission. We are twinned with a school in South Africa under the "Amewale" project.

You might say you would find this in any school but I believe, however, it is the sense of justice learned from the Gospels that inspires our activities. Our school values tolerance and inclusiveness. We always welcome students of other traditions, faiths and nationalities seeing such diversity as offering opportunities for deeper understanding among people holding diverse convictions.

We the students of this school feel valued; we are treated with the utmost respect and with justice and are constantly challenged to become the architects of the future of mankind. The relationship of man to his environment is constantly emphasised.

There is one very special place in our school: Our Prayer Room, This is a place where I can go and pray to God and thank Him for all of the good things in life. I sometimes sit here with students who have lost a family member, who are remembered in our special parent's memory book. I can only guess what it must mean to these girls to realise there is a special place in this school where they can remember in safety.

I am very happy and proud to be a student here in Currylea and I know I matter as a student in this Catholic school, so yes I want to celebrate this week."

Mercy College Coolock 'Sing Out' for Haiti

Tuesday 16th February 2010

The students of Mercy Coolock 'sang out' for Haiti on Friday 29th January, raising over €2,700 in the process. A team of 5th year students organised the event, which saw girls from every year group, as well as staff, put their vocal talents on show. Songs performed included 'Yellow', 'Don't Stop Believing', 'Ben' and 'Barbie Girl'.

All funds raised will go directly to an orphanage run by 'Nos Petits Freres et Soeurs'. The Mercy link with the charity is strong because one of the volunteers Adele Lawlor is a past pupil of Mercy Coolock, who has volunteered in Haiti for the past 20 years.

Adele was home on sabbatical to study at DCU when the earthquake struck but she headed back to Haiti last week to give whatever help she can.

All at Mercy Coolock wish her well and will continue to keep her and those she serves in our thoughts and prayers.

If other CEIST schools are fundraising for the earthquake victims, we would ask them to consider donating to 'Nos Petits Freres et Soeurs', details available from the Mercy College Coolock school office.

National Cup Basketball Win

Mercy Coolock enjoyed its greatest success yet on the basketball court on Sunday, January 31st, when DCU Mercy defeated Glanmire to win the National Cup, the most glittering prize in women's basketball, for the first time ever.

A special word of thanks to Aoife Grady who provided great support on the day.

The success is proof of the abundance of swimming talent within the school, who were able to compete against the top swimmers in Leinster despite not spending nearly the same amount of hours in the pool. Well Done Girls!

Gaelic Blitz in the Sacred Heart

A gaelic football blitz was organised recently by the Transition Year students at the Sacred Heart School. All first year students took part in the blitz while the Transition Year students acted as mentors, referees and scorekeepers.

Ten teams took part, each taking a county name. After five weeks, Tipperary and Tyrone reached an exciting final. Everybody really enjoyed the games and there was a lot of shouting and cheering and perhaps one or two over enthusiastic teachers!

A big thank you to John Byrne (Louth Development Officer) who acted as referee over the five weeks. Congratulations to the members of the Tyrone team and to Ciara O'Donnell, their mentor.

TY Build a Bank Official Opening!

The Transition Year students officially opened their bank this week with a launch involving games and some very special guests.

Their bank is called "The Bank Factor" and the special guests included Simon Cowel, Cheryl Cole, Louis Walsh, Dermot O'Leary and Santa Claus!

The bank will be opened in the school every Wednesday where accounts can be opened and lodgements can be made.

This project is part of the Build a Bank programme for TY students.

Who Wants to be a Millionaire?

St. Barbara's class organised a fun afternoon for the students and staff, by hosting their own version of Who Wants to be a Millionaire?

They organised this event as part of their CSPE action project along with the guidance of their CSPE teacher Ms. O'Donnell. Many students and teachers participated in this event as contestants and it was thoroughly enjoyed by both staff and students alike.

The contestants were able to ask the audience, go 50-50, and phone a friend in their endeavours to answer the questions. The class raised an impressive 1573 euros for St. Vincent de Paul as a result. Well done girls.

Other Sporting Achievements

U19 Basketball Team: Congratulations to the U19 basketball team who beat Virginia College in the regional final match. They are now in the All Ireland Competition.

U18 Soccer Team: Congratulations to the U18 soccer team who beat St. Louis, Dundalk 4-3 in the league. Goal scorers were Niamh Pentony, Aisling Daly, Hannah Morris and Keely Piper. Player of the match was Saidhb Collins.

Open Evening in the Sacred Heart School

The Sacred Heart School opened its doors for a public open evening on Wednesday 25th from 5-7pm. Children from most of the primary schools in the locality were invited into the evening along with their parents. They received a tour of the school building given by current Sacred Heart students.

They got a chance to speak with all the teachers about their subjects and the school. They attended a talk given by our Principal Ms. Mary Caffrey about the school. Current and past students also spoke about their experiences while attending our school during the talk. Members of the parents' council were also present to offer advice and support.

International Students

The International students group meet up once a week in the school for a chat, to support each other, and share experiences.

Next week a table quiz is being organised by the group, with questions based on the several nationalities in our school.

We have students from all over the world attending our school including, Libya, Congo, Zimbabwe, Nigeria, Germany, America, Pakistan, India, Czech Republic, and Lithuania.

Thanks to Ms. Fox, the International Students' Co-ordinator, and Ms. Austin, the EAL teacher (English as a language) for their support.

Sixth Year Geography Field Trip

On the 21st, 22nd, and 23rd of October, 75 sixth year Geography students went to Ardnabannon Outdoor Education Centre, Newcastle, Co. Down on a field trip.

This field trip is mandatory and complies with the compulsory action project which is part of the Leaving Certificate curriculum.

This action project is worth 20% of the marks allocated at the Leaving Cert examination in Geography. The title of the action project is A study of the processes of river erosion at the river Shimna, Newcastle, Co. Down.

The students are pictured undertaking the various tasks which had to be done i.e. measuring the right bank and the left bank of the river, analysing bed load and measuring the velocity and discharge of the river.

Bring Back the Blazers!

A group of students have recently discovered some older versions of the school uniform, namely the blazers, the Sacred Heart Students used to wear in the 1970's and 80's.

These blazers were hidden away in a school cupboard and when discovered, created great excitement.

These students wore the blazers around the school for the week in the attempt to increase their popularity and to possibly reinstate them as part of the current school uniform.

St. Martha's Fundraising Cheque

Lucy Reynolds and Laura Brady from St. Martha's class, presented their fundraising cheque of 1,000 euros to a volunteer from the Drogheda Animal Rescue Centre this week. Charlie, a dog from the centre also came up to the school to meet the girls.

The students raised this money for the centre by organising a fun fair last May at the school sports day. Well done!

TY Disability Day

The Transition Year students took part in a Disability Awareness Workshop on Tuesday 17th November.

They attended a theory session in the morning, dealing with disability awareness in Irish society today, and in the afternoon, they participated in an activity session, which involved practicing different sports while using wheelchairs.

This workshop was run by the Louth Partnership and the Irish Wheelchair Association.

News from Coláiste Muire, Ennis

Thursday 25th February 2010

All Ireland Transition Year Drama Festival

Our Transition Year class have qualified for the final of the T.Y. Drama festival in the Briery Gap Macroom on Saturday 27th February with their play, "An Triail".

National Concert Hall
Date for Coláiste Muire
Ennis Orchestra

The students of Coláiste Muire Orchestra Ennis travelled to Dublin on 13th February to perform at the premier venue of the National Concert Hall as part of the Irish Association of Youth Orchestras Festival 2010.

They were guests of St. Peter's College Orchestra, Dunboyne Co. Meath. It is thirty years since an ensemble from Coláiste Muire Ennis performed at this prestigious venue when they were conducted by Sr. Paul who worked tirelessly to foster musical excellence in Ennis over her long career.

The combined ensemble was one of eight orchestras selected to perform on the day. They were the only school ensemble on the programme. A wonderful and memorable day was had by all students, staff and parents, many of whom travelled to Dublin for the event.

The occasion was used to launch a rare instrument initiative at Coláiste Muire in an effort to expand the range of the ensemble.

The school bassoon and oboe were overhauled and made available to interested students. In addition, two violas were made available to string players. Several students participated in double bass tutorials and made a big contribution on the day.

The relationship between the schools was forged by parent and freelance music teacher Cathy Desmond, founder director of St. Peter's College Orchestra.

Transition Times

Four of our TY students, Amy Comerford, Stephanie O'Flanagan, Sinead Collins and Orla Killeen feature in "TY TALK" in the Irish Times of 24th February.

They shared their views on Drama, College Places, Bullying and Bonding, Depression and Head Shops.

Coláiste Muire students Jump for Joy Award

Students are celebrating after receiving an award for money they raised for the Kellogg's Jump4Joy Schools challenge in aid of the Children's Medical and Research Foundation at Our Lady's Children's Hospital, Crumlin.

Students from Coláiste Muire have participated in the event for the past five years and have raised in the region of €20,000.

Second year students organised a fun day for first year students. The funds raised by the students will go towards refurbishing the hospital's wards and play areas, upgrading the main hospital kitchen and to funding the hospital's Clown Doctor Programme.

Through the programme, a team of professionally trained actors dressed as 'clown doctors' visit young patients every week to spread fun and laughter throughout the hospital wards.

Presentation Thurles Reach First Ever All-Ireland Camogie Final

Tuesday 23rd February 2010

Presentation Secondary School Thurles made history on Saturday 6th February when they qualified for their first All-Ireland Camogie Final by beating Seamount College in a cold and foggy Kinvara.

Though the scoreline of 3-11 to 1-1 suggests a one-sided affair, the result was put beyond doubt only in the last ten minutes of the game. Points from Cait Devane, Michaela Graham and Andrea Loughnane had the visitors ahead at half-time by 0-8 to 1-0. A goals-coring blitz in the second half sealed matters.

The half-back line of Emily O'Brien, Rosemarie Hanafin and Eithne Moran (Capt.) was impenetrable all through the game while Emma Carey and Clodagh Quirke picked up every breaking ball.

Andrea Loughnane and Sarah Fryday ran riot on the wings, taking scores and feeding passes to the full-forward line.

Cait Devane, although double and treble marked for the majority of the game was immense.

We wish the team and their coaches, Henry Flynn and Margaret O'Dwyer, the very best in the All-Ireland Colleges Final which takes place on March 6th.

Good luck also to the schools Junior camogie team who meet SMI Newcastle West in the Munster Final on Saturday 13th February in the Ragg.

Emmaus Retreat Centre – March 2010

Wednesday 24th February 2010

The month of March will see a wide variety of different programmes and workshops take place at the Emmaus Retreat Centre.

The month will start on the 9th March with a "Style & Confidence Clinic" facilitated by Maria Lynch of Motivated Joy Full Living. In this practical, hands on Style workshop participants will learn about the main STYLE RULES, how to dress for their BODY SHAPE and body scale, what parts of their body to camouflage and what to enhance, to ACCESSORIZE, and how to dress for their personality and lifestyle.

This one is a must for the ladies and excellent value at €58.00 including a light lunch.

On 13th March you are invited to treat yourself to a day of gentle dancing to beautiful music as we move together in a circle creating community. Our lives can feel fragmented in these challenging times.

Dance meditation can help bring about a greater harmony of body, mind, spirit and heart. No previous dance experience required. Come! Enjoy! Be surprised!

This one day Workshop will be facilitated by Barbara Perry chf and the total cost for the day including a light lunch is €50.00.

Barbara is a graduate of the Institute for Dance Meditation/Sacred Dance in Germany. She leads dancing circles in Ireland on a regular basis and has given workshops here, in the UK and USA.

The first weekend programme of the Year will take place on 13th & 14th of March and is entitled "Meditation with Fireflies" – Facilitated by Brother Denis Gleeson. This weekend residential or non residential programme will give us an introduction to the life, work and prayer of Thomas Merton. (1915 - 1968) Merton was a Trappist Monk, a modern mystic, a poet, a prolific spiritual writer and social activist.

He remains a major spiritual influence and an inspiration for our times. The programme will commence on Saturday 13th March at 10.00am and conclude after lunch on Sunday 14th, the programme can be availed of on a residential at €130.00 or non residential basis at €90.00.

A second weekend programme entitled "Being close to the Broken Hearted" – again facilitated by Brother Denis Gleeson.

The programme will look at if God is good, why does he allow so much human suffering and why does evil exist? Human suffering and evil are among the great mysteries of life? We struggle to explain them and in our daily lives, we certainly struggle to come to terms with them.

Why do the innocent suffer? How do people come to do such terrible things?

These are some of the questions that will be explored over this weekend in an attempt to come to some kind of understanding of the evil and suffering which will inevitably touch our own lives.

Once again this programme is available on a residential (€130.00) or non residential (€90.00) basis and will commence again on the Saturday at 10.00am and conclude at 2.30pm on the Sunday.

Maria Lynch from Motivated Joy Full Living will facilitate another one day workshop entitled "Confidence & Assertiveness for WOMEN" and this will take place on 21st March 2010.

Do you tend to avoid conflict and withdraw because you are not sure what to do or say? Are you facing bullies in your line of work? If yes, this is the definitely the workshop for you.

In this practical workshop participants will learn how to make an IMPACT when communicating with others, how to manage conflict and how to set HEALTHY BOUNDARIES and protect their energy during challenging situations.

This workshop is aimed at WOMEN OF ALL AGES that want to improve their assertiveness levels and feel confident to stand up for themselves.

The total cost for the workshop including a light lunch is €58.00. At the end of March Emmaus extends an invitation tone and all to spend time apart in an atmosphere of prayer and silence so that we can enter more deeply into the Paschal Mystery. Fr Derek Laverty will facilitate this Holy Week Triduum which is available on a residential basis €320.00 or on a non residential basis €220.00.

Derek is a member of the Sacred Hearts Order and is a well know Retreat giver in the UK. He has wide experience of working in inner city parishes and also of missionary work in Africa

Full details on all of these programmes available on www.emmauscentre.ie or Phone 01-8700050
