CEIST Student Leadership Conference 2017

We are delighted to announce that our third Student Leadership Conference will take place in St. Patrick's College, Drumcondra on Tuesday, March 14th 2017. The event will commence at 10.00 am and be concluded by 3.00 pm. A light breakfast and lunch will be provided and the event is free of charge.

We are inviting each of our 107 schools to nominate three students to attend the event. A session on mindfulness will be available for teachers accompanying students on the day.

CEIST Training and Events

CEIST held two CPD days for RE teachers on Monday February 6th in St Patrick's College, Thurles and on Feb 8th in the Hodson Bay Hotel, Athlone. The in-service was delivered by Dr. Amalee Meehan and Catherine McCormack of CEIST.

The focus of the in-service was the CEIST Reflection Day for Senior Students designed by CEIST in response to requests from Principals and RE teachers. We look forward to providing more resources to teachers in the year ahead.

A FRESH PERSPECTIVE ON FAITH

NUA is all about exploration: it's a film series that encourages questions, acknowledges doubt, and offers an engaging perspective on the Christian faith.

NUA equips you with the ability to intelligently explore and understand what you believe. We give you tools to discuss your worldview with credibility and confidence, while encouraging you to wrestle with the things that just don't seem to make sense. At the end of the day, this film series is about impact—immediate and personal, as well as the long-term, life-changing experience of working out your faith.

why nua?

NUA / nu: ʌ / noo-ah / Language of origin: Irish Adjective, meaning "new".

We're taking an honest look at questions many of us have about Jesus, the Bible, and what it means to be a Christian. It's a fresh perspective, a different conversation — created in Ireland, hosted by an Irishman. It's new and it's Irish, so we're calling it NUA. It's as simple as that, really.

how does it work?

NUA is a series of eight short films (approx 15mins each) intended to be watched over time. NUA is for everyone and is ideal in an educational setting, church/parish, youth group, university or with friends. These are films to engage with and pick apart. More than anything, NUA is a fresh learning experience.

Dr. Harty Cup Hurling Final – Our Lady’s Templemore 2-22 St Colman’s Fermoy 1-6 – Match Report

February 18th, 2017 | News

Our Lady’s Templemore defeated St Colman’s Fermoy by 2-22 to 1-6 in the Dr. Harty Cup Hurling Final on Saturday February 18th at the Gaelic Grounds Limerick.

Templemore put years of heartbreak to rest as they win first Harty Cup since 1978

Our Lady’s Secondary School, Templemore (Tipperary) 2-22 St Colman’s College (Cork) 1-6

By Jackie Cahill at the Gaelic Grounds, Limerick for the42.ie

THE FAMINE IS over! Our Lady's Secondary School, Templemore, are Dr. Harty champions for the first time in 39 years.

Prior to today, Martin Bourke back in 1978 was the only man to captain the school, known then as Templemore CBS, to victory in the prestigious Munster post-primary schools competition. But Paddy Cadell, a member of Tipperary's 2016 All-Ireland minor winning side, lifted the trophy amid joyous scenes at the Gaelic Grounds in Limerick, following a 19-point rout of St Colman's.

In front of 4,924 spectators, Our Lady's weren't going to be denied on this occasion. They'd lost four finals (2000, 2002, 2013 and 2016) since winning the competition all those years ago but fielding eight of the players who started in last year's final loss to Ardscoil Rís, Templemore were inspired.

Brian McGrath, captain of the Tipperary minors last year, scored 1-7, Jerry Kelly was superb at wing forward with five points and midfielder Stevie Nolan, who went off bloodied in stoppage time, contributed four points in a power-packed performance.

Skipper Cadell marshalled a rock-solid rearguard as, from the off, Our Lady's made their intentions clear, racing into a 0-5 to 0-0 lead within nine minutes. McGrath got the ball rolling with a free before Nolan, Kelly, McGrath again and Andrew Ormonde pointed from play.

9-time champions St Colman's, in their first Harty final in 14 years, finally got off the mark when wing-back Eoin Roche put over a ninth-minute point but in the opening half, none of their forwards managed to score from play.

Niall O'Leary also contributed from the half-back line while midfielder Diarmuid Lenihan scored two frees.

In contrast, Our Lady's would finish the first half with five of their six forwards on target, while Nolan contributed three points from midfield.

Ahead to 0-6 to 0-2, Our Lady's struck for goal in the 17th minute and it was a brilliant Andrew Ormonde effort as he left Kieran Neville trailing in his wake before crashing a shot into the far top corner. Our Lady's were almost in for a second goal three minutes before half-time but Ray McCormack's shot was blocked by St Colman's goalkeeper Eoin Davis. In first half stoppage time, Our Lady's managed three points to open up a 1-12 to 0-4 interval lead.

They were full value for that 11-point margin, too, and other scores were left out there as Our Lady's registered eight wides before the break, compared to just two for St Colman's. Our Lady's were too hot to handle, as McGrath played the 'link man' role brilliantly from centre forward, scoring three points and assisting two more in the first half.

A 24th-minute score vividly illustrated how tuned in Our Lady's were, as Nolan and McGrath played a one-two before Nolan arrowed over a classy score. David Lardner pointed from play early in the second half as St Colman's forward finally got on the scoresheet – but that was the sum total of the attacking sextet's efforts.

O'Leary was the best St Colman's player on view and after he was shoved into attack, the Castlelyons starlet bagged a 49th-minute goal.

But within a minute, McGrath had cancelled that out at the other end and when he added a free, Our Lady's were 2-20 to 1-5 ahead. It was a day when a far superior Our Lady's outfit would respond to whatever was thrown at them and their commitment to the cause was summed up in stoppage time when Nolan threw his head in the way of Lardner's shot – and was taken off with blood streaming from his face.

Colman's will now regroup for an All-Ireland quarter-final clash with St Brigid's of Loughrea, with Our Lady's safely through to a Croke Cup semi-final on 11 March.

Scorers for Our Lady's: Brian McGrath 1-7 (0-2f, 0-2 65s), Jerry Kelly 0-5, Stevie Nolan 0-4, Andrew Ormonde 1-1, Lyndon Fairbrother 0-4 (3f), David O'Shea 0-1.

Scorers for St Colman's: Niall O'Leary 1-1, Diarmuid Lenihan 0-3 (2f), Eoin Roche & David Lardner 0-1 each.

Match Preview

The Gaelic Grounds Limerick will play host to the Dr. Harty Cup Final on Saturday next when Our Lady's Templemore take on St. Colman's Fermoy at 2pm.

St. Colman's Fermoy sit fourth on the Harty Cup roll of honour with nine titles but it is all of 14 years since their last victory when they finished off a memorable three-in-a-row of Harty Cup successes (2001 to 2003).

This year's campaign began with a tough opening group game against local rivals Midleton CBS. Despite trailing heading in to the closing stages, a strong finish ensured Colmans won by four points. In the last 16, Colmans played St. Flannans (who had earlier lost in the group stages to Our Lady's Templemore by 11 points) in Kilmallock. St. Colmans were strong favourites to progress and the Cork school led by 7 points early in the second half. However, St. Flannans play improved immeasurably as they went on a 2-5 to 0-1 run to race in to a three point lead heading in to added time. There was still time for one last Fermoy scoring opportunity and Diarmuid Lenihan duly found the net from a free 40 metres from goal to force extra time. Normal service was resumed in extra time as Colmans ran out winners by 9 points.

A Quarter-Final meeting with CBS Cork now awaited and a dominant first half performance was enough to ensure that Colmans would progress, winning in the end by six points. Another meeting with CBS Midleton in the semi-final was next on the agenda. CBS Midleton had accounted for the 2016 champions Ardscoil Ris after a replay in the Quarter-Final and were fancied to progress by many. However, Colmans scored an all-important goal in a low scoring game and qualified for the Harty Cup Final on a scoreline of 1-8 to 0-7.

Our Lady's Templemore on the other hand had an easier route to the final. A first round meeting versus St. Flannans saw the 2016 Harty Cup finalists lay down a marker by securing an 11 point victory at MacDonagh Park Nenagh. A meeting with Árdscóil Uí Urmaltaigh Bandon in the Last 16 proved to be a no-contest as the Templemore team racked up a facile 6-27 to 0-3 victory. These two games proved little by way of preparation for Templemore's Quarter-Final meeting with old rivals Thurles CBS. Despite playing against the wind in the first half, Templemore scored two goals and led at half-time. Thurles made it difficult for Templemore for much of the second half but lacked scoring power. A late Templemore goal gave them a flattering 10 point victory.

In the semi-final, a meeting with Nenagh CBS brought a huge crowd to the Toomevara GAA grounds. As with the other semi-final, this was a low scoring affair and a Templemore goal proved to be the crucial score as a battling Nenagh side were unable to match Templemore scoring prowess and lost out by 1-15 to 0-14.

By virtue of their impressive march to the final, allied to the experience of at least half their team being involved in last year's final will see Our Lady's Templemore marked down as favourites. Successful Tipperary Minors such as Paddy Cadell, Brian McGrath and Lyndon Fairbrother have led their side well in the campaign to date. Templemore CBS won this title back in 1978 and despite a few final appearances since then, will be looking to bridge that 39 year gap with victory this year.

St. Colmans have been impressive also in their campaign. Aside from the near slip-up against St. Flannans when lady luck was on their side, getting the better of a strong CBS Midleton team on two occasions cannot be underestimated.

Saturday's game is sure to attract a big crowd to the Gaelic Grounds Limerick so why not arrive early and take in the curtain-raiser, the Corn Thomáis Mhic Cholim (18.5 B Hurling) Final between John the Baptist Hospital and Rice College Ennis at 12 noon. If you cannot make it to the Gaelic Grounds, both finals on Saturday will be streamed live via www.munstergaapps.ie. Don't miss out.

Rory McGann of Clare will be the referee for Saturday's Harty Cup Final and may the best team win.

St Brigid's College Callan School Video

Wednesday 8th February 2017

The Principal of St Brigid's College, Callan, Co. Kilkenny, Mr. Pat Power, has kindly shared the following news snippet.

Opening of New School

It gives me great pleasure to introduce you to a short video celebrating the opening of our new school here at St. Brigid's College, Callan, Co. Kilkenny.

This video gives you a sense of the magnificent facilities in our new school and of the transformation, which has taken place over the past 18 months.

Here at St. Brigid's College there is a vitality of spirit and a wonderful sense of community amongst our staff, students and parents that makes us unique.

We are trying to contact as many as possible of our former students and friends to show them the tremendous developments, which have taken place here in St. Brigid's College.

We are seeking their help in creating a video collage to celebrate the much-anticipated official opening of our new school.

We would kindly ask for your help to reach as many people possible by asking you to post, tweet, like and share this video on your social media pages.

St Vincent's Dundalk Goes Orange

Friday 17th February 2017

The following news snippet was kindly shared from Orla Walsh, Deputy Principal, St Vincent's Secondary School, Dundalk.

We are in pursuit of our Amber Flag. 'It's ok not to be ok and it's definitely ok to ask for help'.

We will be hosting the actual Irish 'Cycle against Suicide' on 23rd of April and sharing a leg of the journey with the group who are cycling around Ireland.

You can read all about it on <http://www.cycleagainstsucide.com/cycle-suicide-2017/>.

Today we are going Orange in the #SchoolsGoOrange, check out our latest tweet

The students love it and this is a wonderful way of helping them ease anxiety and to heighten awareness that it is ok to seek help.

Further Information

St Vincent's staff and students went orange today in support of Cycle Against Suicide's national #SchoolsGoOrange campaign.

The main objective of Cycle Against Suicide is to raise awareness of the considerable help and supports that are available to people who are battling depression or at risk of suicide or those who have been bereaved by suicide.

St Vincent's is very proud to be an anchor school for this year's Cycle.

The staff and students are working very hard to promote the cycle's message that 'it's ok not to feel ok and it's absolutely ok to ask for help'.

We were delighted that Stuart Agnew, was with us today to support this campaign to break the cycle of suicide.

Up to 1000 cyclists are expected to set off on their journey from Dublin on Sunday 23 April.

Their ETA at St Vincent's is 17.30 and they will be departing from St Vincent's the next morning at 10.30. Teacher Bernadette White says 'We hope to give them a great reception and an even better send off.

We are hoping to line the streets with our staff, students, their families and friends and the entire community of Dundalk (all wearing orange!). Students are busy selling orange t-shirts, making orange flags and posters, painting bikes orange and bringing in guest speakers from organisations that help people who are suffering from depression'.

She went on to explain, 'Some of our teachers and senior students are busy training and will join the cycle from Dundalk to Newry.

There was a great atmosphere in the school for the #SchoolsGoOrange campaign, with both students and staff getting on board and the sea of orange was a sight to behold around the school.

If members of the public would like to contribute in any way please contact the school'.

Together, shoulder to shoulder, we can break the cycle of suicide on the island of Ireland.

Art loving students may also have a passion for computer coding!

Friday 24th February 2017

Students with a passion for Art might be surprised to find they may also love Computer Coding, says the Principal of a girls school that started coding classes last year.

Under Department of Education plans, computer science is to be offered as a Leaving Cert subject to fifth-year students from September next year. This follows rising demand from the IT industry and fears about skills shortages.

Presentation Girls Secondary School in Waterford began offering coding classes to transition-year students last year and at least a third of the students fell in love with the subject. Class projects included building a Star Wars Episode VII: The Force Awakens galaxy using computer code.

Principal Adrian Gibbs believes students should have the opportunity to try coding, as many will be surprised at how much they enjoy it.

“Yes, some of the students who turned out to be talented would have an aptitude for maths, but there were also students who would have more of an aptitude for art who really took to it. Coding is so visual. Nowadays, it isn't about numbers and letters,” said Mr Gibbs.

His interest in introducing the subject was sparked by an outreach evening at Waterford Institute of Technology in 2015, when maths and computer science lecturers revealed that just one in 10 students on computing courses were female.

The class at Presentation School is taught by Claire Power, a maths and business teacher who has a background in web design. She is passing on her skillset to other teachers, who expressed an interest.

Ms Power has received support from Waterford Institute of Technology lecturers, who are interested in establishing a course on coding for teachers.

“Despite the fact that computer science is being introduced as a Leaving Cert exam subject next year, such a training course doesn't exist for teachers. To be honest, I don't think a 2018 start is realistic as we need to build the skillset in teachers. How can we upskill teachers that quickly?” said Mr Gibbs.

Young Social Innovators - Social Innovation Thinking Differently

Friday 17th February 2017

On February 8th, 2017 Young Social Innovators launched their strategy Social Innovation Thinking Differently, A Plan to Develop Ireland's Innovators and Entrepreneurs who will Build a Fairer, Inclusive and Sustainable World.

The strategy features YSI's vision, history, and impact stories from young social innovators across Ireland. It also outlines YSI goals and actions for 2017-2020, and provides commentary on Ireland's potential to be a leader in social innovation, including what steps should be taken to ensure this can happen.

Our plan to develop Ireland's innovators and entrepreneurs to build a fairer, inclusive and sustainable world.

Young Social Innovators intends to provide the best education in social innovation for young people anywhere in the world.

By 2020, we want at least half our teenagers to be empowered to do social innovation in their local area helping Ireland stake its claim as a world leader in social innovation whilst shaping a fairer and more equal society.

Our plan to achieve this is to engage 50% of all second-level schools every year in Ireland.
