

Competencies for Principal

A review of the JMB framework of competencies for Principal and for Deputy Principals was commenced in November 2018 in the light of feedback from members of selection committees, Principals, Chairpersons of Boards of Management, Trustees representatives and the Department of Education & Skills.

During this review it was decided to redefine four of the six competencies to more explicitly include the four domains identified in the Department of Education and Skills published document, LOOKING AT OUR SCHOOL 2016: A Quality Framework for Post-Primary Schools (LAOS). This document identified two key areas or dimensions of the work of a school, namely, Teaching and Learning, and Leadership and Management. Within the dimension, Leadership and Management, which is the dimension most relevant in the recruitment of Principals and Deputy Principals, four domains are identified:

Domain 1: Leading Learning and Teaching

Domain 2: Managing the Organisation

Domain 3: Leading School Development

Domain 4: Developing Leadership Capacity

The document goes on to identify standards under each domain, each with a set of statements of effective practice and statements of highly effective practice.

The JMB review group drew on three strands: the previous collaborative work with Principals, Deputy Principals, Chairpersons of Boards of Management and representatives of Trustees that identified the original framework; the aforementioned feedback from selection committees; and, the DES publication LOOKING AT OUR SCHOOL 2016: A Quality Framework for Post-Primary Schools (LAOS).

The review group identified the following key competencies, which include the domains from LAOS, as being essential for the effective performance of the role and function of a Principal in a faith school:

- A. Leadership of a Faith School
- B. Promotion of a Holistic Development Culture including Leading Learning and Teaching
- C. Interpersonal Relationships including Developing Leadership Capacity
- D. Management & Administration including Managing the Organisation
- E. Strategic Management including Leading School Development
- F. Self-Awareness & Self-Management Skills

These competencies are not listed in order of priority. It is up to each Board of Management to judge the priority given to each key competency in light of the needs of the school

A Board of Management may not necessarily accord equal weight to each of the competencies. It is essential that the selection committee know the relative importance of different competencies so that they can adjust their shortlisting and interview marking schemes accordingly.

While each of the competencies are important in their own right, the upholding of the Characteristic Spirit in a school carries particular weight, given:

- i. it is a legally recognised duty of the Board of Management under the Education Act 1998 [15.2(b)] and under the Articles of Management [2(c)]; and
- ii. that a Principal's devolved functions are in accordance with the policies of the Board [Education Act 1998 (22.1, 23.2 – 3)].

It therefore follows that the upholding of characteristic spirit is a significant occupational requirement of leadership in a school as recognized under the Act. This becomes all the more important where characteristic spirit is so foundational a marker as in the case of a faith school. Thus the successful candidate will be called upon to protect, support and promote the characteristic spirit of the school as stated in core documents as recognized in the Education Act 1998. The successful candidate will therefore be expected to have a subtle understanding of what is involved here, be committed to the demands implied in such leadership and to operate in accordance with what the Board, on behalf of the Trustees, lays down as the quality of action, function and presence deemed necessary for the carrying out of the role.

Following an examination of the positive and negative behavioural indicators set out below, the Board should choose behaviour indicators which the Board believes are most relevant to the needs of their school and in which the successful candidate should be able to demonstrate his/her competence.

The Application Form should ask the candidates to set out their experience of how they have demonstrated particular aspect(s), chosen by the Board of Management, of the competence in question.

Each of the six competencies is defined in a school context below with some relevant behavioural indicators, positive and negative. A sample of the statements of highly effective practice from LAOS have been included in these behavioural indicators.

A. Leadership of a Faith School

Definition: The Principal promotes the building of a school community in its religious tradition and in accordance with the values of the school's mission statement and expressed philosophy. As a significant occupational requirement of Principalship the successful candidate will be called upon to understand, protect and promote the stated characteristic spirit of the school. He/she will be committed to the demands implied in such protection and promotion. He/she will operate in accordance with the quality of action, function and presence laid down by the Board of Management on behalf of the Trustees, as necessary for the carrying out of this role.

Sample Behavioural Indicators

Positive:

- Demonstrates an understanding of Catholic education and an understanding of its specific characteristic spirit, its traditions, ethos and founding intention as expressed in core documents. The candidate must grasp how this relates to and is relevant for the lives of students and teaching staff and for the overall curriculum, culture and climate of the school.
- Demonstrates the capacity to challenges actions, behaviours and practices that do not accord with the school's Catholic ethos and ethical standards. (Domain 2).
- Demonstrates familiarity with the language, strategies and dynamics involved in leadership of a Catholic school that protects and promotes characteristic spirit.
- Demonstrates comfort, familiarity and enthusiasm around the specific characteristic spirit as laid down for this particular school in its core documents.
- Demonstrates the sincere willing dispositions necessary to protect and promote the school's Catholic ethos and has demonstrated such willing dispositions in past undertakings and achievements.
- Demonstrates the capacity to be a motivational leader of staff in relation to Catholic education and is committed to reflective practice, the ongoing professional development of staff and to the leadership role of others in this regard.
- Demonstrates an ability to foster a commitment to inclusion, equality of opportunity and the holistic development of each student as part of our Catholic values. (Domain 1)
- Contributes to the shaping and implementation of a vision based on high expectations, for the all-round development, including appropriate academic success, for each student who is seen as a unique child of God.
- Demonstrates an ability to clearly communicate the guiding vision for the school as a Catholic school to all key partners and lead its realisation, working with the patron/ trustees and board of management. (Domain 3)
- Places faith development appropriately within the whole school planning and review process.
- Demonstrates a resolve that is tempered with moderation, flexibility and compassion around the issues and conflicts that our Catholic faith can experience in an increasingly diverse and secular society.

- Demonstrates familiarity with the legal complexities regarding human rights, religious freedom and discrimination that are part of leadership of a contemporary Catholic school.

To be more specific the Board may require some of the following:

- The successful candidate to lead prayer services and to begin each assembly with prayer.
- The successful candidate to be capable of 'homily style' inputs on significant whole-school occasions where the school speaks to itself about its vision and reflects upon its characteristic spirit and identity.
- The successful candidate be required to lead staff in accompanying the student body to liturgical events.

Negative:

- Demonstrates 'vacancy', or is 'at sea', or 'lost' or indeed presents hostility, discomfort or a distinct lack of enthusiasm when questioned about matters concerning the Catholic nature of the school.
- Presents no track record in supporting, protecting or promoting characteristic spirit or in deepening his/her knowledge of this field.
- Fails to take sufficient cognizance of the spiritual and moral values set out in core documents in presenting his/her understanding of the optimum management of the school.
- The candidate displays a lack of balance when considering matters of faith and is either immoderately fundamentalist or immoderately libertarian.
- The candidate is unaware of the complexity attending the survival and continuation of Catholic schools in an increasingly diverse and secular society.
- Is not comfortable in integrating the discourses of faith and education and shows little understanding of or sympathy for the school's expressed philosophy, faith heritage or charter.
- Shows little cognisance of the specific factors involved in being part of the leadership team of a Catholic school and has taken no steps to prepare for such a role.
